

Many Countries, Many New Beginnings

People come to the United States from all over the world.
They bring their languages, traditions, skills, stories, and dreams.
Together, these journeys make our communities stronger and more colorful.

HOPE

In 2023, about 15 out of every 100 people living in the United States were born in another country.

This means
1 in 7 people in the United States is an immigrant.

Where U.S. Immigrants Were Born (2023)

- 52% Latin America
- 27% Asia
- 10% Europe
- 5% Sub-Saharan Africa
- 4% Middle East & North Africa
- 2% Canada and other parts of North America

Not Everyone Moves for the Same Reason

People move to a new country for many reasons.
Here are some of the most common:

To study
to learn and gain new skills.

To work
to find job opportunities.

To be with family
to join loved ones.

To build a safer future
to live in a place with more safety and stability.

To create new opportunities to explore, grow, and follow their dreams.

♥ A Stronger, Kinder, More Colorful World ♥

When people from different places come together, they share their languages, foods, traditions, and stories. Our communities become stronger, kinder, and more welcoming for everyone.

Different beginnings. Different journeys.
One shared world — a place to call home.
